Section One: Introduction

What you can do

Pick up pet waste and throw it in the trash.

A photograph showing a person walking two dogs on a leash on a wooden boardwalk. One dog is brown and white, and the other is white. The person is holding a black bag, likely for pet waste.

Draft Vision, Mission, and Values

Together, growing community connections and inspiring health and healing through exceptional outdoor experiences and high-quality natural areas.

Mission

A partnership committed to an interconnected, nature-based parks and trails system, where everyone belongs.

Values

- Belonging: Committed to offering processes, spaces and programming that are inclusive, welcoming, safe, and accessible to all individuals.
- Stewardship: Caring for the natural environment today and for future generations.
- Well-being: Knowing that the outdoors is vital for personal and community health.
- Adaptability: Challenging ourselves to grow, by creating a culture of innovation.
- Education: Inspiring learning about outdoor skills, culture, history, and natural systems.

Draft Parks and Trails Objectives

Foster Equity and Belonging

Connect people with community, natural, and cultural landscapes to better support their physical, mental, and emotional well-being.

Take Care of What We Have

Reinvest in existing regional parks and trails to maintain and enhance visitor experiences.

Protect and Restore

Protect and restore natural systems to safeguard the well-being of all living things.

Adapt and Mitigate

Increase the region's resilience to climate change by adapting land management practices and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Meet Future Needs

Meet the growing demand for regional parks and trails through strategic and timely land acquisition and development.

Draft Existing Conditions

History of Inequitable Development

The creation of the Regional Parks System occurred in 1974 and works in partnership with 10 agencies.

Regional Parks and Trails are built on Dakota land that was stolen.

Racist policies like racial covenants and redlining have created an environment where some benefit more than others.

Vital to People and Communities

Regional Parks and Trails provide communities with a space to be physically active and mentally heal.

Parks also act as a place for people to gather, presenting an opportunity to address the loneliness epidemic in the U.S.

Not all communities get to benefit equally, as BIPOC and youth experience more barriers to accessing the Regional Parks and Trails.

Climate is Changing

Minnesota's climate is already changing rapidly, resulting in warmer and wetter climate.

Climate change disproportionately impacts low-income and communities of color.

Impacts include more extreme heat in urban areas and degrading air quality across the board.

Regional Parks and Trails contribute to the region's adaptation and mitigation efforts.

The System Faces Growing Pains

State funding has historically contributed less than intended amount.

There are large acquisition and development costs associated with completing the system.

Visitors generally want more amenities and improved maintenance.

Agencies recognize need to improve existing infrastructure while expanding access to all communities.

Section Two: System Plan

System Plan Policy and Actions

Policy: Maintain a robust and current set of data, maps, plans, processes, and applications to support regional parks and trails planning
