Ranking Site Selection Factors

Your insights as a site selection professional can help planners in our region better understanding the needs of the businesses that drive the region's economy. Economic Development Services, Inc. is working with the Metropolitan Council to document the real estate requirements and preferences of industry sectors that drive our region's economy. These insights and other economic and workforce information will be made available to cities and counties in the region as they undertake their comprehensive planning processes over the next several years.

The survey focuses on seven key industry sectors for our region and four categories 1) transportation access 2) workforce 3) real estate and 4)community and local services. Please feel free to skip an industry sector if you feel you don't have sufficient expertise in that area. There is an opportunity for you to provide narrative comments at the end of each section.

We appreciate your time and insights.
