Background

Pursuant to the Livable Communities Act (LCA), the Metropolitan Council awards grants to projects through the Livable Communities Demonstration Account (LCDA) that advance Metropolitan Council priorities and create incentives for communities to develop a full range of housing opportunities. On February 5, 2024, the Metropolitan Council adopted the 2024 LCDA Affordable Homeownership guidelines, criteria, and schedule as part of the Annual Livable Communities Act Fund Distribution Plan (Business Item 2024-41). This plan allocated $3 million for Affordable Homeownership grants in 2024.

The Affordable Homeownership grant program, established by the Council in 2022 (Business Item 2022-50), was designed as a key initiative within the broader effort to reduce racial disparities, a goal described in the Council's 2020-2022 Strategic Plan. Homeownership has historically been a means of wealth-building in the United States, providing families with long-term financial stability through home equity, tax benefits, and appreciation in property values. However, redlining, segregation, and discriminatory lending practices have caused communities of color, particularly Black and Indigenous communities, to have lower rates of homeownership, limiting their ability to build wealth through property ownership.

The program seeks to address this disparity by expanding homeownership opportunities in underrepresented communities and distributing the Council's investments across the region. The Affordable Homeownership grant program was designed to prioritize projects that achieve two primary program priorities:

- Racial Equity: Create homeownership opportunities for Black, Indigenous, and other ethnic or racial groups that own homes at disproportionately lower rates than white households in the region; and
- Geographic Choice: Create affordable homeownership opportunities in parts of the region where it is most challenging to do so.

Staff use both Census and Council data, which is available in an interactive map on the Council's website, to score applications based on these program priorities.

For the 2024 review process, external reviewers from the Livable Communities Advisory Committee (LCAC) evaluated the applications on:

- Affordability: Projects must ensure that the homes created will be affordable to households living at 80% (AMI) or less and provide a minimum affordability term of 15 years. For 2024, this is defined as households with annual incomes of $97,800 or less and homes with a purchase price not exceeding $290,300. These thresholds are updated annually on the Council's website and include calculations for principal, interest, property taxes, and insurance payments.
- Equitable Access: Policies, programs, and partnerships to create equitable access to homeownership opportunities.

The LCAC reviewers' scores were then combined with the data-derived scores related to the program priorities to arrive at the application's final score.

Additionally, the program requires that all applicants ensure first-time homebuyers take Home Stretch or an equivalent homeownership education course. The Scoring Criteria, as approved by Council in the 2024 Fund Distribution Plan, is available online.

In 2024, the Council set a maximum award size of 50% of the project's total acquisition and general construction costs. Soft costs, like developer and legal fees, have not been eligible for funding in any year. Furthermore, no local match is required for 2024 grants, making it easier for smaller communities and smaller projects to compete for funding.

For the 2024 LCDA Affordable Homeownership grant opportunity, the Council received 11 applications. The applications requested a total of $5,417,683, exceeding the available $3 million allocation by $2,417,683.

Rationale

In the 2024 Fund Distribution Plan, the Council notes its commitment to maximize the number of awards and the number of homes funded, if demand continued to exceed available funds. This commitment recognized the fact that homeownership projects are often scalable with partial awards. Since 2024 requests exceeded available funds, the LCAC recommends full funding for the highest scoring projects and partial awards on a progressively diminishing scale by score until available funds are fully expended. Partial awards are rounded so that a whole number of homes can be funded by the grant until all funds are exhausted, as shown in Table 2. No projects with scores below 30 points are recommended for funding in this grant cycle given limited funds.

Thrive Lens Analysis

The Council's investment in these affordable homeownership projects advances several Thrive 2040 outcomes.

- Prosperity: Many of these projects introduce new affordability levels or housing types to the areas in which they are located, which “helps create and preserve mixed-income neighborhoods and housing choices across the region.”
- Equity: These projects also “help close the gap between the region’s affordable housing need and the supply, especially in areas underserved by affordable housing.”
- Livability: While most LCDA projects support multi-family housing projects, the affordable homeownership grants also support the Council’s efforts to “encourage and invest in a wide variety of housing options throughout the region to serve an increasingly diverse population, including viable housing choices for low- and moderate-income households and senior households.”

The Council’s investment in these affordable homeownership projects is also aligned with the proposed goals in the draft Imagine 2050 plan. Specifically, the draft plan maintains the commitment to reducing racial disparities so that “all people feel welcome, included, and empowered,” which was a central reason for the program’s launch in 2022. The draft plan also calls for the “Livable Communities Act grant programs [to] support more homeownership development opportunities by increasing funding for the Affordable Homeownership program.”

Funding

On February 5, 2024, the Metropolitan Council adopted the 2024 Annual Livable Communities Act Fund Distribution Plan (Business Item 2024-41). This plan allocated $3 million from the Livable Communities Demonstration Account for Affordable Homeownership grants in 2024. This funding is also included in the Council’s authorized budget. Reserves may need to be amended into a future annual budget to meet cashflow needs on Livable Communities multi-year grants.

Review Process

The Council received 11 applications by the October 1, 2024 deadline. Staff scored projects on the program priorities, and all received higher than the minimum score (5) to advance in the review process. In 2024, based on feedback from applicants and Council Members, external reviewers from the Livable Communities Advisory Committee were incorporated into the process. Previously, an ad hoc panel of subject matter experts reviewed the applications. Three members from the LCAC, who self-declared they had experience with homeownership programs, served as the external reviewers and scored the projects on the equitable access and affordability criteria that were adopted by the Council as part of the 2024 Fund Distribution Plan. Based on the program priorities, equitable access, and affordability scores and the Council’s stated intent to maximize the number of projects and homes funded, the LCAC is recommending funding for 10 applications.

Outcomes Summary

The expected outcomes of the funding recommendation, outlined in Table 1, are 46 new home ownership opportunities, including two with accessory dwelling units. Because the accessory dwelling units are not sold separately from the new construction homes, they are not counted as additional homeownership opportunities. Table 3 shows the number of homeownership opportunities expected to be created by the 2024 grants by affordability level; some projects have overlapping levels of affordability, so each level is not discrete.

The recommended grants are also spread across the region, as shown in Figure 1. Because some of the scattered site projects have not yet identified exactly where the home ownership opportunities will be, the map includes the possible project communities.

Project Detail
Project Overview	Project will build two single family homes with detached accessory dwelling units (ADUs). These units are expected to be the first ADUs in the community, as the zoning use has only recently been adopted by the community. Given the unique feature of an ADU, the project will target first-time homebuyers and multi-generational households. Homes Within Reach is amending their ground lease for this project to allow the owners to rent the ADUs at affordable prices, creating additional opportunities for wealth building.
