SUBJECT: Planning Resources for Climate Resilience

Council staff will update the Land Use Advisory Committee (LUAC) on the work that is planned for 2017 regarding planning resources for climate resilience. As a component of the PlanIt project also discussed at the November 15 LUAC meeting, staff are also preparing a more detailed track of training opportunities and planning resources focused on climate resilience.

In addition, staff will discuss the work progress on the climate vulnerability assessment since our last update at LUAC in July 2016, as well as plans for continued work in 2017. A key outcome of the CVA is to provide data and tools for local units of government to improve the resilience of local infrastructure and land use planning.
