Proposed Action

That the Metropolitan Council amend the by-laws of the Livable Communities Advisory Committee to add two members with expertise in planning, economic and community development/engagement, representing traditionally under-represented people, and eliminate the requirement for staggered terms.

Background

The Livable Communities Advisory Committee (LCAC) is a body that was established for the purposes of reviewing and recommending funding awards under the Livable Communities Demonstration Account (LCDA). The LCAC By-laws govern the requirements and number of members, their terms, how they conduct their review of grant applications and how they conduct their meetings.

The LCAC currently includes 12 members and a Chair. The LCAC bylaws, were adopted in 1995, and were revised in 2005 and 2011. They establish six areas of expertise to provide the range of skills and experience necessary for evaluating LCDA applications: 1) local government planning, economic or community development; 2) development finance – one private finance, one public finance; 3) development – one new development, one redevelopment; 4) transportation and land use relationship; 5) environment and land use relationship; 6) site design and land planning. The LCAC Chair serves at large and at the pleasure of the Council.

In 2014, a work group comprised of Community Development Committee members and representatives from Metro Cities was formed to consider how Livable Communities Act grant funds might be leveraged to advance the THRIVE MSP 2040 equity outcome. The work group recommended that two members be added to the LCAC to provide expertise in planning, economic and community development/engagement representing traditionally under-represented communities.

To simplify and streamline the LCAC appointment and re-appointment process, staff proposes to eliminate the requirement for staggered terms. All members will begin their terms on July 1 of the year they are appointed and will serve in three year increments, with no term limits.

Attached is a copy of the bylaws reflecting through underlining and strike-out how they would change.

Rationale

The amendment will fulfill the recommendation of the Livable Communities 2014 Work Group.

Funding

The effect of this action would have no impact on funding.

Known Support / Opposition

Council staff is not aware of any opposition to these proposed changes.
