Background

The 2040 Regional Parks Policy Plan commits the Council to develop an equity analysis requirement for master plans. The requirement is designed to ensure that questions of who benefits and who is affected by the development of a regional recreational resource will be included in all regional park and trail master plans. To develop this draft requirement the Council worked in collaboration with Metropolitan Parks and Open Space Commission, Metropolitan Council's Equity Advisory Committee, and implementing agency staff to define an approach that advances equitable use of the Regional Parks System across race, ethnicity, national origin, income, ability, and age.

The 2018 update of the 2040 Regional Parks Policy Plan added the expectation to create an equity analysis requirement to address equity priorities at the onset of planning in contrast with the implementation or funding phase of the project through the Equity Toolkit. The 2040 Regional Parks Policy Plan and Thrive MSP 2040 offer framing language to shape development of the equity analysis requirement. Additionally, the draft requirement was informed by the equity toolkit for funding and the equity grant program processes. This requirement will be implemented three months after Council action and added to the 2040 Regional Parks Policy Plan as part of a future amendment that does not have a current scheduled date. Regular dialogue and technical assistance will be an important feature of early implementation

During this information item, Council staff request input from Metropolitan Parks and Open Space Commission as outlined in the 2040 Regional Parks Policy Plan. Specifically, Council staff seek the Commission's support of the draft equity analysis master plan requirement through discussion guided by the following two questions:

- What advice do Commissioners have for the Council and Implementing Agencies to fulfill the requirement?
- What do Commissioners need from staff to inform their deliberations on the Equity Analysis Requirement?

Thrive Lens Analysis

This information item focuses on the outcome of Equity, as it will explore how best to strengthen equitable use of the Regional Parks System through the development of Regional Park Master Plans.
