

Digital Accessibility and ADA Self-Evaluation Updates

Making our websites and online information accessible

- We will ask a business to review the accessibility of our websites and online information.
- We have two members of TAAC that will help us pick a business.
- We will have them review our websites and online information by the end of the year.
- The business will then have people with disabilities test our websites and online information to make sure we make it accessible.

ADA Self-Evaluation

- We will be asking a business to review our buildings for items that are not accessible.
- They will give us a report for each building and what needs to be fixed or added so that they are accessible.
- This self-evaluation will be done by the end of the year.

ADA Self-Evaluation Review Panel

- We would like one person from TAAC to help us pick a business to look at our buildings.
- We will be reviewing businesses in March.
- If you are interested, please let Patty know and she will send us that person's information. We will check in with that person.

ADA Transition Plan

- This is a plan to make all of the changes to the buildings that we find in the self-evaluation.
- We will list the changes we can make and what it will cost us, as well as who is responsible for getting the work done.
- The plan is to start the transition plan by the end of the year or early 2020.

Other Accessibility Work

- Leadership training this year will be on accessibility.
- Staff will be trained on making documents accessible.

Contact Information

Guthrie Byard, ADA & Title VI
Administrator
Office of Equal Opportunity
Guthrie.byard@metc.state.mn.us
612-349-7762

Tracey Jackson, Senior Manager
Office of Equal Opportunity
tracey.jackson@metrotransit.org
612-349-7695