

Join the team building LRT history!

Learn how you can be a part of the team that manages construction of the METRO Green Line Extension (Southwest LRT).

We're looking for engineers, construction managers, contract administrators, and other specialists to join our team of professionals and deliver the largest public works project in Minnesota history.

The Metropolitan Council is hiring professional and technical staff to oversee construction of the project – the next phase in the expansion of the regional LRT system. Put your skills to work on a major project that will benefit the Twin Cities metropolitan region for generations to come.
