

METRO Blue Line LRT Community Engagement Phase 1

October 2020 – February 2021

“Often, when people think about planning, they focus on the things: buildings, streets, green space, roads, and transit. But planning is really about people, about the communities we call home. It is about where we work, where our families will grow, ... where they’ll prosper, and where we’ll connect with one another.” Metropolitan Council Public Engagement Plan

Overview

Beginning in 2020, Metro Transit and Hennepin County began exploring opportunities to advance the METRO Blue Line Extension (BLRT) Project without the use of the freight rail corridor. To set the table for productive community conversations regarding future route selection, Phase 1 of community engagement was conducted October 2020 through February 2021.

The purpose of Phase 1 community engagement was to re-activate community relationships, educate community on the new direction of the BLRT Project, understand community priorities, and collect recommendations for community engagement to inform future processes for route selection. In addition, it was important to acknowledge and build from the countless hours of previous engagement in the BLRT corridor.

BLRT Engagement Principles

Engagement Principles were adopted by the BLRT Corridor Management Committee in December 2020 to provide a foundation for engagement moving forward:

Meaningfully engage stakeholders

- Honor and build on previous robust community engagement
- Tailor engagement practices to meet the needs of the individual communities in the corridor

Engage, inform, and consult diverse communities to co-create project solutions that reduce disparities

- Ensure corridor communities of all races, ethnicities, incomes, and abilities are engaged so all communities and corridor cities share in growth opportunities, with an emphasis on low-income and cultural communities
- Use community goals, priorities, and criteria for growth to inform decision-making
- Adjust strategies and approach as needed to ensure corridor communities are fully represented in engagement efforts

Phase 1 Community Consultants

- Juxtaposition Arts: a teen-staffed art and design center that serves North Minneapolis and beyond.
- The Alliance: provides staff support for the Blue Line Coalition, a coalition of 10 community and cultural organizations representing marginalized communities; communities of color; immigrants and refugees; people living with disabilities; low-income residents; displaced workers; and aging and transit-dependent populations in the BLRT corridor.
- Harrison Neighborhood Association: neighborhood organization that has historically facilitated engagement activities for the BLRT project in North Minneapolis.

Phase 1 Community Engagement Activities

- Community consultants met weekly with BLRT Project Communication and Engagement staff for mutual information sharing related to project changes.
- Community consultants revised and refreshed the BLRT stakeholder contact list.
- Community consultants met with five BLRT corridor cities (Brooklyn Park, Crystal, Robbinsdale, Golden Valley, Minneapolis) to discuss recommended approaches to future community engagement.
- Community consultants conducted 13 stakeholder interviews with community and culturally based non-profit leaders whose organizations represent low-income communities and communities of color within the BLRT corridor.
- Community consultants hosted 5 community listening sessions with a total of 100 people in attendance. Participation was focused on low-income communities and communities of color.
- BLRT Project Team hosted 2 corridor-wide listening sessions with a total of 60 people in attendance.
- Community consultants amplified the BLRT Project messaging and promoted the survey through their social media networks.
- A community survey was conducted receiving 1900 responses.

Phase 1 community input collection methodologies

Phase 1 collected community input through stakeholder interviews, listening sessions, and a Blue Line LRT community survey. Input collected was summarized by Areas 1, 2, and 3 along with the categories of key destinations, opportunities, issues/challenges, and community engagement preferences. Stakeholder interviews and listening sessions focused on participation representing low-income communities and communities of color. Surveys were distributed corridor wide. Of the survey participants who reported their race, 80% reported white.

Phase 1 community engagement recommendations:

1. Coordinate and collaborate across project partners
 - Ensure the BLRT Project Management Team of Hennepin County and Metro Transit are coordinated and collaborative in their approach to community engagement that includes Business Advisory Committee, Community Advisory Committee, and future community consultants.
 - Continue to consult and inform Corridor on community engagement strategies, tactics, and activities.
2. Partner with community consultants to improve and expand community engagement efforts
 - Implement an open RFP Process soliciting proposals from the refreshed BLRT stakeholder list focusing on community and cultural non-profits that serve residents and small businesses in the BLRT corridor.
 - Ensure the Evaluation Panel for the proposals has representatives from communities of color.
 - Select consultants to work together as a cohort coordinating their communications and outreach across their focused communities, complimentary services, and Areas served.

- Apply a tiered funding approach to contracts, evaluating and awarding contracts according to level of services provided and Area(s) served.
- Contract with community and cultural organizations who have trusted relationships with their residents and small businesses bringing with them creative ways to engage.

3. Focus on Environmental Justice Communities

- Emphasis on low-income communities and communities of color by developing culturally specific approaches to engagement.
- Recognize cultural diversity as a strength and an asset to future corridor development.
 - There are over 50% of people of color in this corridor, including concentrated populations of African American, African Immigrant – primarily Liberian, Latino/Latinx, and Asian Communities – primarily Lao, Hmong, Vietnamese.
 - Historically, these communities have not always been included in planning processes in their areas.
- Prioritize translations since multiple populations speak English as their second language.
- Incorporate a communications plan that uses culturally based media for BLRT communications. EJ communities are less likely to receive BLRT information shared through standard communications channels and outlets.

4. Incorporate comprehensive engagement approaches

- Understand community has frustrations with the new direction but are ready to discuss solutions for new routes.
- Address preventing displacement, recognizing this is a community priority:
 - There is a need for developing strategies, policies, and investments for building wealth in place.
 - Approach displacement prevention across agencies and key stakeholders.
 - Focus on community benefits such as connecting to jobs and services, climate action and disparity reduction.
 - Address gentrification impacts of previous alignment in North Minneapolis
 - Include communities in the design of anti-displacement strategies from the beginning.
- Move at the speed of trust:
 - Recognize low-income communities and communities of color have had stressful impacts from COVID-19 and the George Floyd Uprising.
 - Refresh and build sustainable, responsive relationships
 - Utilize community trusted communication systems.
- Use plain language in communicating Project status clearly stating what we are asking community to respond to along with how community input will influence the outcome.
- Utilize more graphics and visualizations to present route concepts.
- Engage communities on tangible elements with clear timelines on decision points.
- Translate BLRT Project materials in Spanish, Lao, Hmong, Vietnamese, and Somali.
- Acknowledge online surveys can be a useful tool but they don't reach low-income communities and communities of color as well as other approaches.
- Tie in community input from the beginning of the BLRT process in 2014, recognizing this is a continuation of the ongoing BLRT community engagement.

5. Address previous BLRT route plans' impacts and opportunities

- Acknowledge how the modified route will impact those communities who are adjacent to the previously planned BLRT route.
- Engage communities along previous route to ensure that positive benefits from BLRT are still pursued, including establishing work group to address abandoned route.
- Recognize communities were impacted by the release of the abandoned route, such as an increase in property values and the consequent displacement of community members.

- Address previous plans for infrastructure improvements along Olson Memorial Highway along with previous station area plans for reinvestment opportunities identified at Van White and Penn stations.

Phase 1 BLRT Community Input Summaries

Common themes across all methods on engagement preferences:

- Leverage partnerships with organizations and places in each area along the corridor, especially with those who already focus on organizing and engagement.
- Use a variety of approaches to reach every geographic and cultural community within the corridor, including trusted community leaders, in-person events, virtual meetings, visual activities, and materials, etc.
- Attend events where people are already gathered, such as city or local community events.
- Create easily understandable project materials to share with community—with translations, visuals, and plain language.
- Ensure there is a robust and coordinated communications effort to share consistent project updates with community throughout the project.
- Share materials and updates through culturally specific media channels.
- Provide interpretation at meetings.
- Engage community in more than just route alignment, including engagement regarding BLRT impacts on housing, businesses, transportation, etc.

Appendix A: Summary of METRO Blue Line Extension Preliminary Engagement

Date: October 2020 to February 2021

Metro Transit and Hennepin County (Project partners) are exploring opportunities to advance the METRO Blue Line Extension light rail (BLRT) project without the use of the BNSF corridor. The next step for the BLRT project is to identify a community supported alternative route for environmental review and approval.

To do this, the project needs to inform and involve stakeholders throughout the phases of the route identification process. To begin the process, phase 1 sought to gain feedback on the alignment principles and develop a community-led engagement plan for 2021. Project partners focused on the following:

- Informing and involving stakeholders around the new project direction
- Contracting with organizations to support engagement
- Working with stakeholders to co-create a community-informed project engagement framework for 2021

A variety of engagement methods were utilized to achieve phase 1 goals, including an online survey and community conversations (listening sessions, one-on-one meetings and corridor city meetings). The following section summarizes the feedback we heard during each engagement method. This information will be used to determine the community-led engagement plan for BLRT Phase 2 engagement.

Online Survey

The online survey started to explore community perspectives regarding the project. The survey asked 21 questions total, focusing on key destinations, opportunities, issues/concerns and engagement preferences. It opened on December 15, 2020 and closed on February 8, 2021. There was a total of 1,909 responses.

Key Destinations

A total of 1,377 respondents provided information about key destinations in the project study areas. Several key destinations were noted for each project study area. While most destinations were unique to each study area, some destinations overlapped across study areas. Below are some highlights of the most frequent key destinations noted in the survey.

Area 1 Destinations

There was a total of 326 responses for key destinations in area 1. The following were the most frequently mentioned destinations:

- West Broadway
- North Hennepin Community College
- Target Campus
- Grocery Stores/Shopping Centers
 - Cub
 - Target
 - HyVee
- Brooklyn Park Library

Area 2 Destinations

There was a total of 526 responses for key destinations in area 2. The following were the most frequently mentioned destinations:

- North Memorial Health Hospital
- County Road 81/Bottineau Boulevard
- HyVee
- Crystal Shopping Center

Area 3 Destinations

There was a total of 525 responses for key destinations in area 3. The following were the most frequently mentioned destinations:

- West Broadway Business District
- Theodore Wirth Park
- North Memorial Hospital
- Shopping areas
- North Minneapolis – i.e., North Minneapolis neighborhoods instead of outskirts

Corridor-wide Destinations

The following priorities were frequently mentioned across the study areas:

- Connecting to transit dependent communities to serve those who need it most
- Serving North Minneapolis residents
- Connecting to high-density housing and residential areas, such as apartment complexes
- Connecting to employers and business districts to serve workers and customers

Opportunities

Respondents also provided information about the opportunities and benefits they find most important for this project.

Transit Connections

First, respondents shared which transit connections are most important for the BLRT. Figure 4 shows that respondents believe transit hubs, bus service, and bus rapid transit are the most important transit connections, respectively, for the BLRT.

BLRT Benefits

Respondents also shared which BLRT benefits they think are most important for them and their community. Figure 5 shows respondents believe connecting to jobs and connecting to transit are the two most important benefits for themselves and their communities.

Issues/Concerns

Respondents also shared their community, construction, and operational concerns about the BLRT project.

Community Concerns

When it comes to community concerns, respondents are most concerned about gentrification and displacement, followed by housing affordability and small business leasing affordability, respectively. Many are also somewhat concerned about these issues. Still, there are several who aren't concerned about any of these issues (see Figure 6).

Construction Concerns

When it comes to construction concerns, respondents are most concerned about business operations during construction, property acquisitions and construction disruption (see Figure 7 below).

Ongoing Operational Concerns

When it comes to ongoing operational concerns, respondents are most concerned about security and safety at station areas, pedestrian, bicycle and automobile safety, and transit connections, respectively (see Figure 8).

Engagement Preferences

Lastly, respondents shared information about their engagement preferences moving forward. The most preferred engagement tool was virtual community meetings, followed by pop-up events and in-person COVID-safe community meetings (see Figure 9).

Demographics

Race and Ethnicity

Out of the 1,909 responses, 858 respondents provided information about their race or ethnicity. Figure 1 breaks down the self-identified race and ethnicity of the 858 respondents.

Community Conversations

Listening Sessions

A total of seven listening sessions were conducted during phase one. Five listening sessions were organized and facilitated by community contractors while the remaining two sessions were organized and facilitated by project staff. The total number of people engaged across all listening sessions was 98.

Juxtaposition Listening Sessions

- Juxtaposition's Enviro Design Lab Listening Session on November 18, 2020
- Juxtaposition Community Design Studio on December 16, 2020
- Community Design Studio at JXTA hosted a virtual listening session/focus group on January 28, 2021

Harrison Neighborhood Association (HNA) Listening Sessions

- HNA & Northside Neighborhoods Council Listening Session on January 21, 2021

The Alliance Listening Sessions

- Blue Line Coalition Listening session on January 13, 2021

BLRT Project Staff

- Metro Blue Line Extension Listening session: Project Transition on February 4, 2021
- Metro Blue Line Extension Listening session: Project Transition February 5, 2021

Stakeholder Interviews

A total of thirteen stakeholder interviews with community leaders were organized and facilitated by community contractors. At least one Project partner attended every stakeholder interview to provide project information and to listen to stakeholders.

Juxtaposition

- Felicia Perry, WBC, November 20, 2020
- Dr. Brittany Lewis, CURA, January 5, 2021
- C Terrence Anderson, CURA, January 7, 2021
- Jamil Ford, Previous member of the BLRT CAC, January 12, 2021
- Roxanne O'Brien, Northside Reinvestment Coalition and Northside Green Zone, January 12, 2021

Harrison Neighborhood Association

- Sunny Chanthanouvang, Executive Director for the Lao Assistance Center of Minnesota
- Candy Bakion, Board Member for Heritage Park Neighborhood Association

- Kristina Doan, CAPI, January 26, 2021
- Karla Payan, Pueblos de Lucha y Esperanza, January 26, 2021

Corridor City Meetings

A total of seven corridor city meetings were held throughout phase one. These meetings included Project partners, community contractors and city staff.

- City of Minneapolis, December 4, 2020
- City of Crystal, December 11, 2020
- City of Robbinsdale, December 18, 2020
- City of Brooklyn Park, January 8, 2021
- City of Golden Valley, January 15, 2021
- City of Brooklyn Park – focused conversation about engagement preferences, January 21, 2021
- City of Minneapolis - BLRT Communications Meeting, January 28, 2021

Study Area Feedback

The following section details area-specific feedback gathered across the community conversations. The input from cities, stakeholders and listening sessions is organized by areas of 1, 2 and 3.

Area 1

Destinations

- North Hennepin Community College
- Brooklyn Park Library
- Small businesses along County Road 81/West Broadway

Opportunities

- Connect with Hennepin County Bottineau Community Works team to address gentrification and displacement
- Connect with Opportunity Zone designated sites

- Understand transit development impacts on housing costs for renters
- Develop a culturally focused shopping center to address the needs of the large immigrant community

Issues/Concerns

- Effectively including those who are most impacted but have less influence on project
- Gentrification and displacement

Engagement Preferences/Recommendations

- Target outreach not only by geography, but also by broader cultural groups residing in Brooklyn Park
- Leverage partnerships with community places like NHCC, BP library, businesses along the route, Zanewood Recreation Center, churches, schools, apartment complexes, community-based nonprofits, Three Rivers Parks
- Attend local city events and activities (e.g., farmers market, Tater daze, HOTG events)
- Share information in plain language
- Create culturally specific and responsive translated materials tailored to communities in Brooklyn Park, which includes the following primary languages:
 - Spanish
 - Hmong
 - Lao
 - Vietnamese
- Use culturally responsive media channels to share information about project, which may include:
 - Whatsapp
 - Social Media
 - Videos
- Need robust information sharing and consistent messages across County and City channels

Area 2

Destinations

- Small business along County Road 81
- Crystal Shopping Center
- Downtown Robbinsdale

Opportunities

- Connect with small businesses, culturally specific organizations and churches in the area to build relationships across groups

Issues/Concerns

- Cities are challenged when trying to connect with low-income residents and residents of color who are most impacted by BLRT project, e.g., affordable housing complexes
- BLRT project presenting community with too broad of information will not elevate community desires
- Confusing residents about parameters of project, if the route can only really go along County Road 81 then why create options when that is what they thought it was going to be all along

Engagement Preferences/Recommendations

- Present details of project and possibilities (e.g., routes) moving forward to help folks visualize it
- Connect with organizations, business owners or staff who focus on outreach
- Engage residents in next phase, when it comes to design-related aspects of the project, e.g., elevated guideways, pedestrian bridges/walkways, acquisition of property, traffic lines
- Leverage partnerships to make sure translation is happening, and it is not just left up to cultural liaisons to share out project-related information
- Inform community with clear messages about project and purpose
- Use a variety of approaches to reach different folks and groups in community

Area 3

Destinations

- North Memorial Health Hospital
- West Broadway business corridor
- Job centers, including Brooklyn Park, Minneapolis, and Bloomington
- Van White Blvd stop that includes Summit OIC, Sumner Library and Heritage Park
- Penn Avenue route
- Upper Harbor Terminal/Riverfront at N Dowling Ave and 2nd St - activate/convert the industrial area into retail and residential
- Businesses and residential areas along Lowry Ave
- Hawthorne neighborhood

Opportunities

- Make North Minneapolis a destination rather than a thoroughfare
- Connect to job centers for transit-dependent residents
- Make environmental justice front and center through adoption of green zone principles, etc.
- Create more market-rate and affordable housing units along the main corridors and in the half-mile walk area
- Prioritize economic development and increase the types of businesses located in the community to keep the money in the community
- Expand retail and restaurants in North Minneapolis
- Increase ridership for the entire BLRT project by focusing on more density and smart location of transit stops
- Build on community-led work and vision

Issues/concerns

- Not fulfilling promises made to communities where the previous alignment will no longer go
- Residents disappointed at the idea that the route will potentially no longer go down Olson Highway
- Community members expect the reinvestment opportunities outlined in the Penn Avenue & Van White Station Area plans
- Outside investments displacing current/future residents and business owners
- Community members have seen long-time neighbors forced to move due to rising property values and rents
- Displacement and gentrification aren't priorities in these projects, they need strong organizing and direction around them
- No matter where the route is located, all areas of the Northside will be impacted by this project

- Traffic concerns about co-locating the LRT at grade
- Lack of transparency with citizens about what is happening and when
- History of harm—potentially another extractive project and process for North Minneapolis

Engagement Preferences/Recommendations

- Shift engagement strategies to include a focus on anti-displacement policies. The following are suggestions from community:
- Adopt tenant opportunity to purchase, residential and commercial rent control, just cause eviction, and pay or quit ordinances, and cancel rent and mortgage debt accrued during the pandemic
- An Intergovernmental & Community Anti-Displacement work group to work together on the implementation of much needed anti-displacement policies
- Ensure materials are translated, and interpretation is provided at meetings in the following languages: Lao, Oromo, Spanish, Hmong, and Somali languages
- Provide compensation to community members who dedicate their time to stakeholder interviews, community work groups, and project meetings
- Create a space where everyone can share their insight during phase 2 engagement along the corridor, so people don't feel like they are working in silos
- Establish work group to address abandoned route—Olson Memorial Highway and the infrastructure improvements outlined in the Van White Blvd & Penn Avenue Station Area plans
- Incorporate hands-on engagement tools for community to really engage with project, including visualizations, 3D visioning, slow rolls
- Focus on capturing people's thoughts at community events (virtual or in-person, as public health protocols allow), including:
 - FLOW Northside Arts Crawl
 - Open Streets
- Do not focus only on route alignment—actively engage the community in idea generation and solution-creation to benefit current Northsiders, avoid displacement, and repair past harms
- Leverage partnerships with those who are already doing engagement work in the community (e.g., City of Minneapolis cultural liaisons, Juxtaposition, WBC, etc.)

Appendix B: BLRT BIPOC Media Recommendation

Strategic approach:

This document outlines recommended strategies and tactics to engage Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities who may be less likely to receive Blue Line Extension (BLRT) information shared through standard communications channels and outlets. Building strong connections to BIPOC media channels better positions Hennepin County and Metro Transit to be responsive to communities who experience disparities in the BLRT Corridor.

- Identify key cultural media sources that serves the BLRT Corridor.
- Allocate budget amount for ad buys with cultural media sources.
- Integrate community and cultural communication resources into BLRT general communication plans.
- Include BIPOC communities in communications focused on BLRT project decision points, milestones, and engagement activities according to the BLRT Project Management Team's 2021 schedule.

Goals:

Educate, inform, and invite BIPOC community to participate in the engagement activities BLRT Corridor as directed by the BLRT Project Management Team. Build trust and long-term relationships through trusted community communication systems.

Communication and Engagement Tools/Methods:

1. Media outlets: broadcast and ad buys for BLRT project updates in BIPOC newspaper, radio, local and culturally produced radio such as:
 - a. Newspapers:
 - i. For example: Spokesman Recorder, North News, Asian American Press, El Minnesota De Hoy, MShale
 - b. Radio scheduled PSAs and interviews:
 - i. For example: WIXK AM1590 - Hmong Radio 1590, Radio Rey, KMOJ, LaRaza, Lao Assistance Center online streaming broadcast
 - c. Locally produce television appearances/interviews:

- i. For example: CCX Media, Hmong Broadcasting Company - 3 Hmong TV News (Facebook, live stream, and YouTube), Telemundo Minneapolis
2. Community partnerships: connect with BIPOC community organizations, faith leaders and influencers to inform and engage community around the BLRT project through their communication channels such as organizational newsletters, Facebook pages, twitter, and other social media channels to amplify scheduled communications. Please refer to attached BLRT community stakeholder list for possible community partnerships.
3. In-person information sharing on BLRT project updates at community locations such as:
 - a. Culturally specific grocery stores (Dragonstar)
 - b. Food shelves and food pick-up locations
 - c. Public transit-Transit Centers
 - d. Libraries
 - e. Community centers
 - f. Community organizations
 - g. Hennepin County Service Centers
 - h. Shelters
 - i. Senior housing/Public Housing
 - j. Adult Education/ESL locations

Recommended Actions:

The following will build trust in the community, strengthen relationships, and create channels of communication between cultural communities and the Project Partners:

- Create processes to translate and interpret materials in a timely manner.
- Share translated materials in community settings and with partners.
- Create channels to share resources on Project Partners platforms.
- Create videos in different languages to educate the community on the project, e.g., Upper Harbor Terminal project introduction videos.
- Establish long-term partnerships and communication systems with community organizations and influencers to share project information/updates/opportunities.
- Create communication channels for partners to share information and feedback, such as Basecamp or interactive website.
- Create and distribute a social media toolkit to amplify project messages.
